

Whiz in kitchen

For a real whiz in the kitchen which can do almost anything, it's the Bosch built-in kitchen machine. The MEK7000AU is built into the benchtop and takes up less than one drawer-space in depth. With all its attachments the MEK7000AU is a blender, doughmaking machine, food processor, mincer and ice-cream maker. It's an innovative, unique, built-in kitchen machine. It can be concealed quickly under its stylish cover plate and is ready to use at the turn of a hand. It retails for $1699. Stockists 1300 368 339

Shock development

Suffering from overloaded power boards and double adaptors? Then the HPM Plug Boss may be the answer. The 8-Outlet Plug Boss powerboard has a Residual Current Device safety switch which automatically trips each time the power is turned off and must be reset when the power is restored.

It's heavy duty enough to be used in the shed, with a 3m-long power cord, rotating dust covers and an on/off switch with neon and a protective cover. It retails for $79.95 and is available from Bunnings.

Cot rocker

Settling a crying baby can be a trying time for a parent. Enter the Lullabub – the world's first remote-control cot rocking device.

It works by supporting the cot on an independent spring-suspension system which sways in multi-directional movements. It can recreate the movement of a mother's womb, heartbeat, a drive in the car or a boat on the water. The remote-controlled modules will only allow the cot to tip up to five degrees – which is five degrees less than the safety standard for cots.

It retails for $249 from www.lullabub.com.au

Water and dust-proof phone

Splashing by the pool, digging in the garden or working in the shed, there's one phone which will stand up to the rough and tumble of everyday life with ease. The new bright yellow Uniden cordless phone is 100 per cent waterproof – it will float if submerged in water and is dust and dirt resistant.

It also features an orange LCD backlit screen, caller ID, speaker phone on the base station and handset, polyphonic ringtones, and is compatible with up to 10 handsets, while the phonebook can store up to 100 names. It's $269 from Myer.
